Lesson 2: Reading & Writing

Part 1

Read the article below.

Don't I know you?

When Greg Harper was 18, he went to college. He liked his classes and met a lot of people. One day, he went to a soccer game. One of his friends from high school was there with a young woman.

"This is Anna. She's in my biology class," his friend said. "Anna, this is Greg. We went to high school together."

Anna looked at Greg. "Don't I know you?" she asked. "But your name is Gary."

Everyone was confused. Anna knew another student named Gary. Like Greg, Gary was tall and had dark hair. He wore glasses. He was young, and Anna thought he was handsome. "In fact," Anna said. "You two look like twins." It turns out they are twins! Both Greg and Gary were adopted as babies. They didn't know they had a twin. Greg and Gary still go to the same college. And they are both studying history.

Complete the sentences with words from the article.

1. Greg went to _____ when he was 18 years old.
2. He met Anna at _____.
3. Greg is not short. He's _____.
4. Anna thinks that Greg is _____.
5. Greg and _____ are twins.
6. They both study _____.

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. Would you like to be a twin? Why or why not?
2. Do you know anyone who looks like you?
3. What famous person do you think you look like?

Part 2

Imagine you are meeting someone you don't know. Write a description of yourself. Describe your hair color, height, build, and looks.

Part 3

Exchange your description with a classmate. Do you think his/her description is correct? What changes should he/she make?

Lesson 3: Vocabulary

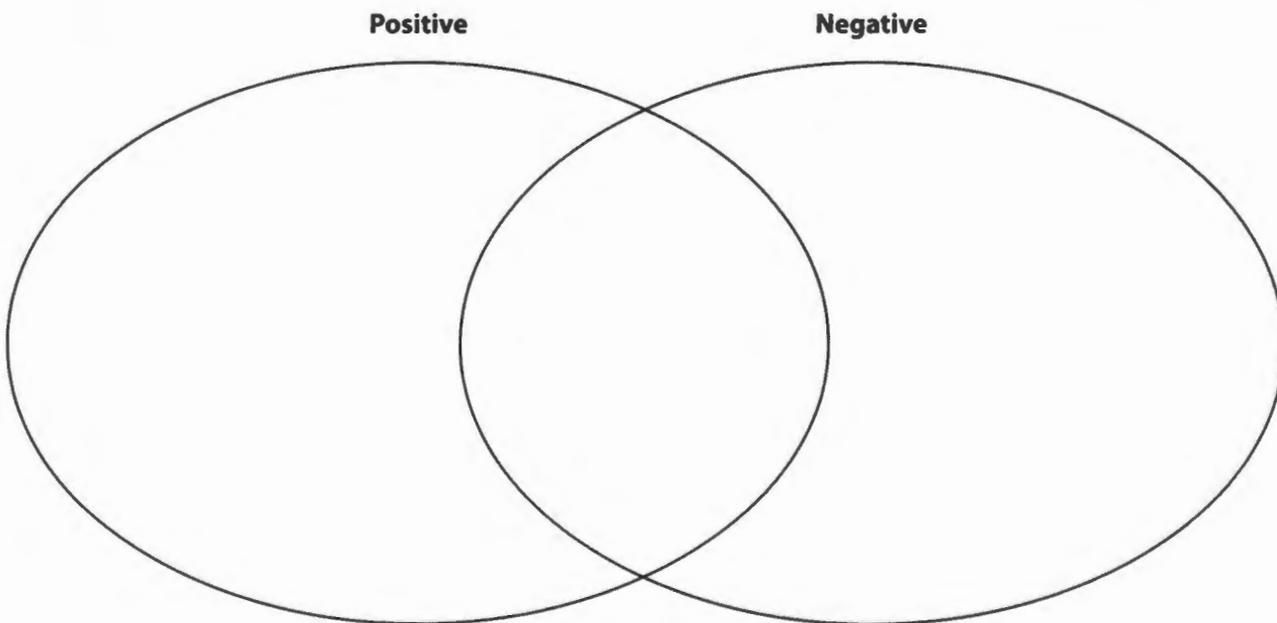

Part 1

Unscramble each of the words that describe personality.

- _____ nntifedoc
 - _____ lgurfteolf
 - _____ eatverci
 - _____ mentiipta
 - _____ nuyfn
 - _____ tunggioo
7. Which words do people use to describe you? _____

Part 2

Are the words in Part 1 positive, negative, or both? Write each word in the correct place in the diagram.

In class, compare answers with a partner.

A: I think confident is positive.

B: I do, too.

Part 3

Answer the questions. In class, take turns asking and answering the questions with a partner.

- What is your friend like? _____
- How would you describe one of the people in your family?

- Do you think you are funny? _____. Why?

Lesson 3: Reading & Writing

Part 1

Read the article below.

What's your personality?

For some jobs, you have to take a personality test first. Take the short quiz below. It asks some similar questions.

- 1. Would you rather spend most of your time with people or alone? Of course everyone likes some of both. But some people are more outgoing. They feel more energy when they are with people.
- 2. Where do you like to get your information, from details, or from looking at the "big picture"? Some people like to look at every little detail. They are also very practical. Other people like big ideas. They like to look at things in a creative way.
- 3. When you make a decision, do you think carefully or do you do what feels right? Some people like to look at all the information before they decide. They make the decision with facts, not with feelings. Others think feelings and relationships are more important than information.
- 4. Are you serious or more playful? Serious people may like things organized and certain. They are always on time. Playful people are more casual. They don't mind being late.

What is the opposite personality type for each of the following?

- likes to spend time alone _____
- gets information from big ideas _____
- thinks carefully about decisions _____
- is very serious _____

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

- How would you answer each question from the reading for yourself?
- Do you think one question is more important for work than the others?
- Do you think married couples give the same or different answers?

Part 2

Write five of your own questions to ask someone about his/her personality. Choose the questions you think are most important if you are choosing an employee, a spouse, or a friend.

Part 3

Exchange your questions with a classmate. Are any the same? Choose five that you both can agree on. Discuss your answers.

Lesson 4: Reading & Writing

Part 1

Read the article below.

How college students spend their time

It's August, and soon students will be going back to school. Some students are going to college for the first time. Many first-time college students (and their parents) worry. Will school be too stressful? Will they work too hard? Can they handle the pressure?

Don't worry. According to a recent study, most students aren't working too hard. How are they spending their time? Well, almost all are getting enough sleep. College students sleep more than 8 hours a day. And yes, they do go to class (3.6 hours). But they do free-time activities and sports almost as much (3.5 hours). The average college student works almost 3 hours a day, and travels about an hour and a half. That leaves eating (1 hour), personal care (0.8 of an hour) and everything else (2.3 hours). So relax. College isn't that hard after all!

How do college students spend their time? Write the correct number of hours next to each activity.

_____ eating _____ education _____ free-time/sports _____ work _____ personal care _____ sleeping _____ travel

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. This information is about American college students. Do you think it is similar in your country?
2. Does anything surprise you about the results?
3. How much time do you think college students should spend on each activity?

Part 2

Write about your typical day. How much time do you spend on each of the following: sleeping, eating, school, work, free-time and sports, traveling, personal care?

Part 3

Exchange the description of your typical day with a classmate. Are they similar? What would you like to change?

Watch Meet Casey and fill in the blanks.

Maria: Eric, how can you study and _____ at the same time?
(1)

Eric: Most of my classmates text, study, and _____ at the same time.
(2)

(one vowel + one consonant)	big	bigger
Adjectives that end in -y:	heavy	heavier
Irregular adjectives:	good	better
	bad	worse
Adjectives with two or more syllables:	interesting	more interesting
	serious	more serious

Complete the sentences with the correct form of the adjective in parentheses.

- Ana is taller than Yuki. (tall)
- I think Alan is _____ than Grant. (handsome).
- Maria is _____ than Claudia. (confident)
- My brother is _____ than I am. (young)
- Jake's hair is _____ than Rob's hair. (long)
- Marcus is a _____ tennis player than I am. (good)
- Adam is _____ than Nick. (short)
- Ahmed is _____ than I am. (funny)
- The twins are _____ than their cousins. (shy)
- Simon is _____ than Jemma. (forgetful)
- My English class is _____ than my math class. (interesting)
- Alicia is _____ than her sister. (pretty)
- My mother is _____ than my father. (serious)
- These jeans are _____ than my old jeans. (big)
- Luis is _____ than his sister. (heavy)
- I am a _____ basketball player than Gina is. (bad)

You: 4. _____
- A: Have you ever drunk 5. _____?
You: 6. _____
- A: When did you drink it?
You: 7. _____

Part 1

Read the blog below.

Food and emotions

My favorite snack is chocolate-covered pretzels. I like the sweetness of chocolate, but I also like something salty. I also like jelly on my potato chips. A recent study says my favorite snacks tell you about my personality.

Salty food

Some people want to eat salty food all the time. They are usually people who “go with the flow.” These people don’t need to control things all the time.

Chocolate

Chocolate makes many people feel good. People who like dark chocolate are more outgoing and love a party. But those who like milk chocolate are shy. They may want to stay home and read a book.

Spicy food

Spicy food, like Mexican or Thai, makes our hearts go faster and makes us sweat. People who want spicy food like excitement. They don’t like to waste time.

Sweet food

If you like sweet foods, you like pleasure. You want to reward yourself and feel good.

Sweet and salty

These people like to mix things up. They are creative and playful, but may be private. And that describes me. What kind of food do you like the most?

Match the food to the personality type.

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| _____ 1. Thai food | a. likes adventure and excitement |
| _____ 2. ice cream and cake | b. creative and playful |
| _____ 3. potato chips | c. likes to feel good |
| _____ 4. milk chocolate | d. is shy and quiet |
| _____ 5. chocolate-covered pretzels | e. goes with the flow |

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. What is your favorite snack?
2. Do you agree with the blog?
3. Do you know anyone who matches one of these types?

Part 2

Read the first paragraph again. Write about your favorite kind of snack. Why do you like it?

Part 3

Give your description to your teacher to read aloud. Can anyone guess who wrote it?

Lesson 6: Vocabulary

Part 1

Write the way to prepare food that matches the definition.

1. _____ to cook food in an oven
2. _____ to cook over a fire or high heat
3. _____ to cook in a pan, often with oil
4. _____ to cook or make something warm, quickly, by using a special machine
5. _____ to cook by putting something in hot water
6. _____ to cook using steaming hot water under the food

Part 2

Answer the questions. In class, compare answers with a partner.

1. How often do you eat cake? _____
2. What is your favorite vegetable? _____
3. Do you like fried fish or baked fish better? _____
4. For which meal do you most often eat noodles? _____
5. Do you usually have meat for breakfast? _____

Part 3

1. Imagine you want to make a frozen dinner. Write the steps using first, then, after that, and finally. Include two reminders.

2. In class, take turns reading your sequences with a partner. Did you and your partner have the same steps and reminders? _____

Lesson 6: Reading & Writing

Part 1

Read the recipe on a food website below.

My favorite dish

My mother makes my favorite dish. We call it Greek chicken. It's easy to make. First, you mix together $\frac{1}{4}$ cup olive oil, the juice of a lemon, and salt and pepper. Then you rub the mixture all over the chicken. Next, put the chicken in the oven at 350 degrees for an hour. While it is cooking, put a can of chopped tomatoes, oregano, and $\frac{1}{2}$ stick of butter in a saucepan. Bring it to a boil, and then turn it to low. After that, pour the tomato mixture over the chicken. Cook it for another hour or until it's done. You can serve it with noodles or rice. I also like it with green beans or a green salad. It's even better the next day!

Number the steps in order.

- _____ Pour the tomato mixture over the chicken.
- _____ Serve with rice or noodles.
- _____ Put the chicken in the oven.
- _____ Mix olive oil, lemon juice, and salt and pepper.
- _____ Cook chopped tomatoes, oregano, and butter in a saucepan.
- _____ Rub the chicken with the oil mixture.

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. What is your favorite dish?
2. Why do you like it?
3. How is it made?

Part 2

Write the instructions for how to make a dish you like. Use words like first, next, then, and after that to tell the order of steps.

Part 3

Exchange your instructions with a classmate. Are the instructions easy to follow? Do you think you can make his/her dish? Why or why not?

Lesson 7: Vocabulary

RESTAURANTS

Part 1

How are the prices at each of these places? Rank them from 1 (most expensive) to 8 (least expensive). How is the food? On the second line, rank them from a (most delicious) to h (least delicious). In class, compare answers with a partner.

_____ café _____

_____ snack bar _____

_____ food court _____

_____ buffet restaurant _____

_____ cafeteria _____

_____ fast-food restaurant _____

_____ food cart _____

_____ fine dining restaurant _____

Part 2

Complete the sentences. In class, compare answers with a partner.

1. The food at _____ is really great.
2. They serve a lot of food to each person at _____.
3. The atmosphere at _____ is _____.
4. The service at _____ is _____.
5. _____ has a fun atmosphere.
6. _____'s location isn't very good, but the food is fantastic!

Part 3

Look at the chart. Answer the questions. In class, compare answers with a partner.

The Four Seasons New York City	Hard Rock Café New York City
$80-$100	$20 and under
Fine American cuisine	American cuisine
Two dining rooms Famous people often eat here.	Near Times Square Rock and roll records, CDs, and clothes are all around the restaurant.

1. Which restaurant's prices are more reasonable?

2. What kind of food can you eat at the restaurants?

3. Which restaurant do you want to eat at?

Lesson 7: Reading & Writing

Part 1

Read the restaurant review below.

Yo-Yo Sushi

Yo-Yo Sushi has a wide variety of choices and the food is excellent. It has many different kinds of sushi, but it also has noodle dishes and grilled food with a Japanese flavor. The best roll, the Yo-Yo, has tuna, crab, and avocado. The prices of all of the sushi choices are reasonable. The noodle dishes are also inexpensive, and you get large portions. However, there are not many menu options for vegetarians.

Service is good at Yo-Yo. It's not fast, but the servers know a lot about the food and give good suggestions. They are also polite and friendly. The atmosphere of the restaurant is casual, but pleasant. The lighting is soft, but you can still read the menu. The tables are very close together, so servers sometimes bump into chairs and you can hear conversations from other tables.

- 😊😊😊 Food
- 😊😊😊 Service
- 😊😊 Atmosphere
- 😊😊 Price

What is good about the restaurant (+)? What is not so good (-)? Complete the chart.

PAIR-WORK Discuss the questions.

1. Do you want to go to Yo-Yo Sushi? Why or why not?
2. Does the review talk about things that are important to you?
3. What do you want to know about a restaurant? What is most important to you?

Part 2

Write a review of a restaurant you know. Describe the food, the prices, the service, and the atmosphere.

Part 3

Exchange reviews with a classmate. Do you want to go to his/her restaurant? Why or why not?

Lesson 8: Vocabulary

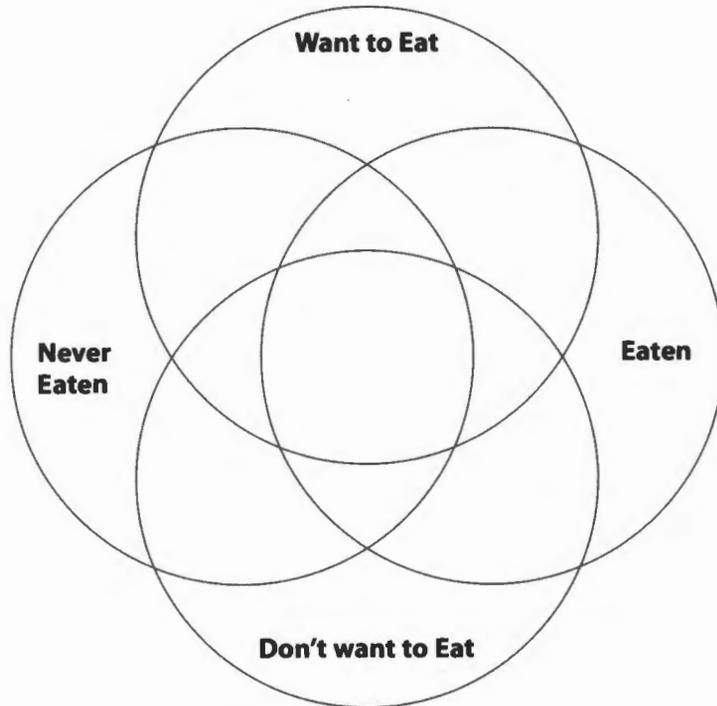

Part 1

Write one or two words to complete each food. If a word is not needed, write an X. In class, compare answers with a partner.

| 4. _____ fries | 10. _____ pie |
| 5. _____ cream | 11. _____ cocktail |
| 6. _____ rice | 12. _____ potatoes |

Part 2

Have you ever eaten the foods in Part 1? Do you want to eat them in the future/again? Write them in the diagram. Then add four more foods. In class, with your partner talk about why you put each one where you did.

Part 3

Answer the questions. In class, compare answers with a partner.

1. Do you usually eat an appetizer with dinner? _____
2. What is your favorite main dish? _____
3. What side dish(es) do you usually eat with your favorite main dish? _____
4. How many times a week do you eat desserts? _____

Lesson 8: Reading & Writing

Part 1

Read the letter below.

Down Home Café

Down Home Café
211 Main Street
Springfield, IL 73420

Dear Manager,

I am writing to tell you about our experience at Down Home Café on 2/19/13. It was not a good experience. I ordered steak, mashed potatoes, and green beans. My wife, Linda, ordered shrimp cocktail and vegetable lasagna. The steak was raw. The mashed potatoes were cold. My wife's shrimp cocktail only had four shrimp. Her vegetable lasagna had pasta and tomato sauce, but there were no other vegetables in the dish.

I would like to get a refund for our meal. It cost $42 with tax and tip. If you cannot give us the money, we would like a coupon for a free meal at Down Home Café. Maybe it was a bad night at the restaurant. We are willing to try it again.

Sincerely,
Matt Lee

Write the name (Matt or Linda) next to the food ordered.

1. shrimp cocktail _____
2. green beans _____
3. steak _____
4. vegetable lasagna _____
5. mashed potatoes _____

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. Did you have a meal at a restaurant last year that you didn't like? Why didn't you like it?
2. Do you think writing letters about a bad experience is a good idea? Why or why not?
3. What are some good ways to tell companies about a bad experience?

Part 2

Write a letter about a bad experience you have had at a restaurant or store. Include these details: What did you eat/buy? What was wrong? What do you want now?

Part 3

RESTAURANTS

Watch Learning to Cook and fill in the blanks.

Tom: What time are Casey, Jill, and Maria coming over for dinner?

Eric: 7:00. We have plenty of time. What should we _____?
(1)

Tom: Pasta!

Eric: Tom, I love your pasta, but --

Tom: I love it too. I could have it every single day.

Eric: Exactly my point. We do have it every day. We should try something different. Let me see... Have you tried _____ food?

Tom: No, I haven't.

Eric: What about _____ food?
(3)

Tom: Nope.

Eric: What have you _____?
(4)

Tom: Pasta.

Tom: Go ahead. Don't worry.

Eric: Thanks, Tom.

Tom: Oh no! The _____!
(11)

Eric: What's wrong?

Tom: I'm sorry.

Eric: We still have time. It's not a big deal. We can just _____ in.
(12)

Tom: I know a great place we can order from! The food is pretty good, it's fairly _____ and attracts a lot of
(13) customers.

Eric: OK. _____ good.
(14)

Server: Hello?

Tom: Hello, can I place a _____ order?
(15)

Server: Sure! What would you like?

Tom: I would like your... hm...

Server: Tom?

Tom: Yes. Roberto?

Server: Yes! How are you?

Tom: Great!

Server: What can I get you? Is it the usual?

Tom: Yes, but for five people.

Server: Sure thing. Five of our special house pastas.

Tom: Sounds delicious! And can you put extra tomato sauce and cheese in one of them?

Server: Anything for you, Tom!

Tom: Thank you.

Server: Have a good night!

Tom: What?

Eric: Pasta?

Tom: You said something different. And it's not my pasta, so it's different... Right?

Present perfect and simple past

The present perfect refers to actions that

- happened sometime before now, at an unspecified time:

Have you ever been to Angelo's restaurant?

Yes, I've been there many times!

- are unfinished or have results in the present:

I've lived here for five years. (I still live here)

Have you had dinner yet? (You might still have dinner.)

The adverbs ever, never, already, yet, and just are often used with the present perfect.

The present perfect is formed by the verb have + past participle.

Regular past participles are formed like the past tense, by adding -d or -ed.

I have stopped drinking coffee.

We have tasted every appetizer on the menu.

There are many irregular past participles.

be	been	eat	eaten	make	made
choose	chosen	go	gone	have	had come	come	speak	spoken	take	taken

The present perfect can express unfinished actions.

The simple past expresses completed actions.

Present Perfect: I've lived in New York for two months. (I still live there.)

Simple Past: I lived in New York for two months. (Now I live somewhere else.)

Part 1

Complete the sentences with the present perfect form of the verbs in parentheses.

1. We have been to the new Vietnamese restaurant many times. (be)
2. Leon _____ never _____ Brazilian food. (have)
3. _____ you ever _____ Turkish food? (eat)
4. James _____ everything on the menu! (try)
5. I _____ always _____ to go to a Moroccan restaurant. (want)

Part 2

Complete the sentences with the present perfect or the simple past form of the verbs in parentheses.

1. Jada has not learned to cook yet. (not/learn)
2. I _____ fish for dinner last night. (make)
3. Fabrice _____ eating fried food three years ago. (stop)
4. Lisa and Henry _____ a great new café last week. (find)
5. I _____ anything at the new food cart yet. Is it any good? (not/buy)

Discourse markers

Discourse markers add information about the speaker's feelings.

Discourse Marker

Surely you like that new café on B Street.

As a matter of fact, it's very reasonable.

I mean, it's worth a try.

Anyway, it's probably not open now.

Obviously we need to find a cheaper place for coffee.

Apparently you don't like French food.

By the way, don't add salt to the eggs.

Honestly, I'm tired of eating out!

Feeling

I don't know why you wouldn't agree with me.

This is something that you might not know.

I'm trying to make this clear.

I don't care.

This is something we both know.

I can see this.

I just thought of this.

I feel strongly about this.

Discourse markers can also show a difference between statements.

I don't like to make French food. On the other hand, I love to eat French food.

French restaurants are expensive here, while Chinese restaurants are very reasonable.

Part 1

Match the feeling with the underlined discourse marker in each sentence.

- | | | |
|---------|--|---|
| _____ f | 1. Honestly , the service here is terrible! | a. I don't know why you wouldn't agree with me. |
| _____ | 2. As a matter of fact , I have never had spinach dip before. | b. This is something that you might not know. |
| _____ | 3. Surely you like Thai food. | c. This is something we both know. |
| _____ | 4. By the way , don't use too much olive oil in this recipe. | d. I can see this. |
| _____ | 5. Apparently they don't serve fried chicken here. | e. I just thought of this. |
| _____ | 6. Obviously you need eggs for this recipe. | f. I feel strongly about this. |

Part 2

Complete the sentences with a discourse marker that matches the meaning in parentheses.

- _____ By the way _____, do you serve drinks here? (You just thought of this.)
- The appetizers are large, _____ the main courses are small. (Show a difference.)
- _____, I really don't eat any meat. (You are trying to make this clear.)
- _____, I don't think the prices are too high here. (You don't care about this.)
- _____ you like Indian food! (I can see this.)
- _____, this is the worst lasagna I've ever eaten! (You feel strongly about this.)

Part 2

How often do you do the activities in Part 1? Put the activities in order from most often to least often/never. In class, talk about your ideas with a partner.

Part 3

Look at the activities in Part 1 and answer the questions with answers that are true for you. In class, compare answers with a partner.

1. Which activity do you like the most? _____
2. Which activity uses the most energy? _____
3. Which activity is the most boring? _____

Part 1

Read the article.

Sleep well tonight

According to health professionals, we should all be getting seven to nine hours of sleep each night. But that isn't happening. Many people have insomnia. They can't fall asleep, or they fall asleep but wake up later and can't go back to sleep. So what should we do to get more sleep?

1. Get more exercise. Try something you like. You can dance to music, walk around the neighborhood, or climb stairs instead of taking the elevator.

2. Have a routine. You should go to bed at the same time every night and wake up at the same time every morning. Read a book or listen to calm music before bed.

3. Sleep in a dark and quiet room. Turn off all lights and close the curtains. Make sure the TV is off.

Follow these simple steps. You may sleep better tonight.

Write the number of the step next to the example.

- _____ a. Close your bedroom curtains.
- _____ b. Dance to music.
- _____ c. Read a book.
- _____ d. Have a regular bedtime.
- _____ e. Use the stairs instead of the elevator.

3. I don't want to _____ because it seems like a lot of hard work.
4. I wouldn't like to learn _____ because _____
5. I'd never _____ because _____

Part 1

Read the posts on a website.

What's the best form of exercise?

Vince
Ballroom dancing is the best exercise for me. It doesn't burn a lot of calories, but it's fun. And you do it with someone else. I also love moving to music. The only thing I don't like? The shoes! I can't find comfortable ones.

Tina
I think the best exercise is running. You burn a lot of calories. You don't need a lot of equipment or to belong to a gym, so it's cheap. You do need a good pair of shoes. Sometimes I have to do another type of exercise because running is very hard on my knees.

Marco
I like swimming. It's not as hard on your body as running is, but it burns a good amount of calories. It's very relaxing and you can do it on your own. All you need is a pool and a swimsuit. Sometimes I get an earache.

Complete the chart.

Activity	Positive things	Negative things
Ballroom dancing
Running
Swimming

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. Do you agree with the speakers above?
2. What form of exercise do you think is best? Why?
3. What is one form of exercise that you'd like to try?

Part 2

Write about the form of exercise you think is best. Give some reasons why it's so good. Describe any problems with the exercise.

Lesson 12: Reading & Writing

2013/9/12

Part 1

Read the letter.

Director of Sports

Victoria Parker
Director of Sports
Redford College
September 12, 2013

Dear Ms. Parker,

I am writing this letter as president of the Student Sports Committee. We are asking you to replace bowling with volleyball as one of the sport choices. We think that volleyball is much more active. It also burns more calories. Players get in much better shape from volleyball. In addition, volleyball is cheaper because we don't have to go to a bowling alley. We can play in the gym. Other students will come watch because volleyball is much more interesting than bowling. We can charge for tickets to big games. That will provide money for uniforms and equipment.

I hope you will think about this idea. We think volleyball is a much better choice.

Sincerely,
Lisa Chen

Mark the statements T (True) or F (False).

- _____ 1. Victoria Parker is the writer of the letter.
- _____ 2. The writer is a college student.
- _____ 3. The committee wants to have volleyball instead of bowling.
- _____ 4. Volleyball players need to be in better shape than bowlers.
- _____ 5. Volleyball is more expensive than bowling.
- _____ 6. More people will come watch volleyball.

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. How does the letter writer compare volleyball to bowling?
2. Which do you think is better? Why?
3. What sports do you think are best for college students?

Part 3

Write a letter to a gym, club, or other sports organization. Ask them to start a new sports team. Give reasons by comparing the new sport to other sports.

Part 3

Exchange letters with a classmate. Write a response to their request for a new sports team. You can agree or disagree. Give reasons.

14. Who is talking? _____ and _____
15. Where does Nancy work?

In class, practice the conversation with a partner.

Part 1

Read the online article below.

What's in it for you?

Finding a job is a job in itself. You have to get up early. You have to meet deadlines. You have to be organized. And you don't even get paid! You're working hard to find a job, so you have to make your hard work matter.

Salary. Think about this ahead of time. What is your time and experience worth? Can you work for a lower salary if the job is really interesting? How much money do you really need to pay your bills?

Benefits. Health and dental insurance are important benefits. Do you have a family? If so, this insurance is even more valuable. Young single workers might not need these benefits as much.

Responsibilities. Make sure you are able to do your job. If there are too many responsibilities, the job may cause you a lot of stress. On the other hand, you want a job that gives you a challenge. A job that's too easy for you would be boring.

Mark the statements T (True) or F (False).

- _____ 1. It is sometimes difficult to find a job.
- _____ 2. A high salary is the most important thing in finding a job.
- _____ 3. Workers with families don't think very much about health insurance.
- _____ 4. Many responsibilities may cause stress.
- _____ 5. You should choose a job that is easy for you.

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

- 1. Which of the three things in the article is most important to you?
- 2. Do you agree with the writer? Why or why not?
- 3. What other factors do you think are important in choosing a job?

Part 2

Write your own job-hunting tips. What do you think is important?

Part 3

Share your ideas with a classmate. What do you agree on? What different ideas do you have?

Watch Casey's Part-time Job and fill in the blanks.

Tom: Hi, guys. I heard you might be going to Australia, Casey!

Casey: Yep. I'm looking for a part-time job to save up. Maria is helping me.

Maria: This _____⁽¹⁾ is looking for a _____⁽²⁾.

Casey: I don't speak any other languages.

Tom: I wouldn't _____⁽³⁾ the job then. This coffee shop is looking for a _____⁽⁴⁾. Why not here?

Casey: I would have to deal with angry _____⁽⁵⁾. I also would have to work _____⁽⁶⁾ at night. Then I couldn't enjoy my stay here.

Maria: And tips aren't steady.

Casey: Yes. That is true too.

Maria: What about this? A fashion company is looking for a _____⁽⁷⁾ assistant.

Tom: And they need someone to start right away!

Casey: That sounds perfect!

Maria: You should call them.

Casey: OK.

Man: Fashion INC.

Casey: Hi! Could I speak to the manager?

Man: This is the manager.

Casey: My name is Casey. I was wondering if the part-time assistant position was still _____⁽⁸⁾.

Man: Yes. We haven't _____⁽⁹⁾ it yet.

Casey: What sort of _____⁽¹⁰⁾ is it?

Man: You would be helping around the office.

Casey: What are the _____⁽¹¹⁾?

Man: Four times a week from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Casey: That sounds perfect.

Man: Why don't you come in for an interview?

Casey: Great!

Casey: Hello. I'm here for the _____⁽¹²⁾ for the part-time assistant position. Can I speak to the manager?

Man: Yes. You can.

Casey: Great!

Man: What's your name?

Casey: My name is Casey!

Man: Oh, Casey. Yes.

Casey: It's great to meet you. I just want to tell you, I can write pretty well. I have a _____⁽¹³⁾ blog. I'm also really good with people. And as you can see, I'm good at fashion.

Man: Sounds good.

Casey: I'm also reliable and a hard worker. I can do a really good job.

Man: Sounds like you'd be a great _____⁽¹⁴⁾.

Casey: Really? When can I start?

Man: Oh, I don't know. You have to interview first.

Casey: This isn't the interview?

Man: No, let me call the _____⁽¹⁵⁾. Hi, Ben? This is Mike from downstairs. Casey is here to see you.

Time clauses

Time clauses show when one event happens in relation to another event.

Time clauses can begin with before, after, when, or while.

time clause = before/after/when/while + subject + verb

when I get home while it was raining

after we eat before we go to class

Time clauses can come before or after a main clause.

When a time clause comes before a main clause, it has a comma after it.

There is no comma if the time clause comes after the main clause.

While you get ready, I'm going to make a phone call.

time clause main clause

I'll go for a run while you're studying.

main clause time clause

Use before and after to show the sequence of events.

Call me before you go to the interview.

You shouldn't exercise after you eat.

Use when to talk about an action that happens as soon as another action finishes.

When Jan got to the office, there was nobody there.

I will call you when I have news about the job.

Use while to talk about two actions that happen at the same time.

While the family slept in the tent, a bear stole the food from their campsite.

The teacher walked around the room while the students did their pair activity.

Part 1

Circle the best words to introduce the time clauses.

- I need to study computers when/before I can start a business.
- You need a degree. You can become a teacher after/before you get your degree.
- While/After Ron was working, he got a call from the manager.
- While/When I got the job, I was very happy.
- Rachel needs to learn French after/before she can get a job in Paris.

Part 2

Complete the sentences with before, after, when, or while.

- _____ Before _____ you can get a job here, you need to come in for an interview.
- _____ I filled in the application, I gave it to the manager and he read it carefully.
- _____ I was having my interview, my phone rang. I was so embarrassed!
- _____ I opened the door, I saw that the room was empty.
- You can work here _____ you are going to school.

Lesson 17: Vocabulary

Part 3

Use your ideas from Part 1 to complete the conversation. Partner 2 should show interest or ask a follow-up question each time. In class, get into groups of three and practice it.

Partner 1: What do you do in your free time?

You: 1. _____

Partner 2: 2. _____

Partner 1: And what do you like to do in the summer?

You: 3. _____

Partner 2: 4. _____

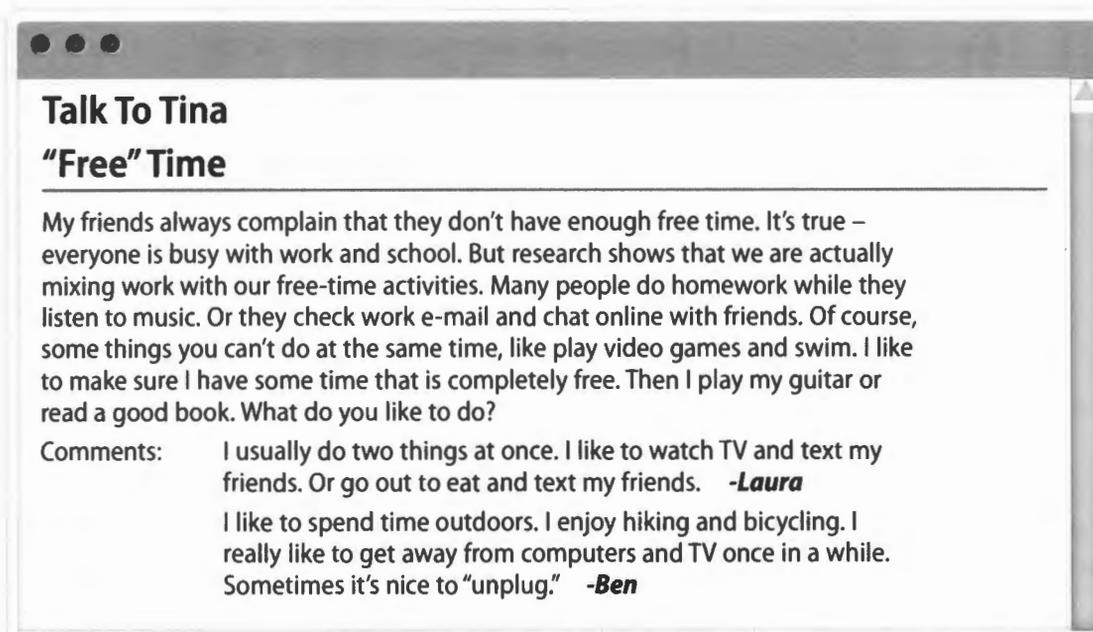

You: 5. _____ ?

Partner 1: 6. _____

Partner 2: 7. _____

Part 1

Read the blog below.

Talk To Tina
"Free" Time

My friends always complain that they don't have enough free time. It's true – everyone is busy with work and school. But research shows that we are actually mixing work with our free-time activities. Many people do homework while they listen to music. Or they check work e-mail and chat online with friends. Of course, some things you can't do at the same time, like play video games and swim. I like to make sure I have some time that is completely free. Then I play my guitar or read a good book. What do you like to do?

Comments: I usually do two things at once. I like to watch TV and text my friends. Or go out to eat and text my friends. -Laura

I like to spend time outdoors. I enjoy hiking and bicycling. I really like to get away from computers and TV once in a while. Sometimes it's nice to "unplug." -Ben

Mark the statements T (True) or F (False).

- _____ 1. Tina's blog is about work and school.
- _____ 2. Many people do more than one thing at the same time.
- _____ 3. Tina likes to play video games.
- _____ 4. Laura doesn't text very often.
- _____ 5. Ben enjoys outdoor activities.
- _____ 6. He always takes his phone with him.

 PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. Do you ever do two things at once? What?
2. How much time do you spend in front of a computer, TV, or other screen?
3. Why is it a good idea to "unplug" sometimes?

Part 2

Write a paragraph about your own free-time activities.

Part 3

Share your ideas with a classmate. Which activities do you both enjoy? Which activities do neither of you enjoy?

Part 1

Read the blog post below.

Chess Nut

My apologies!

If you follow this blog, you know I play chess in Downtown Park every afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. Yesterday was a big day. There was a tournament for the top 16 local players. And I missed it. I'm so sorry that I wasn't there.

Here's what happened.

I left my house early because I decided to drive. That was a bad idea. I got stuck in traffic. Then my car broke down. I forgot my phone at home so I couldn't call anyone. I wasn't far away, so I decided to run over to the park. On my way, I got a bee sting, and I'm allergic to bees! I went to the hospital right away.

Anyway, I'm really sorry. I hope to play in the next tournament. -Sue

Comments: Don't worry about it. I'm just glad you're OK. -Tom
That's OK. I won! -Bridget

Put the events in order.

- _____ Sue ran over to the park.
- _____ She left her house early.
- _____ She got a bee sting.
- _____ She got stuck in traffic.
- _____ Her car broke down.
- _____ She went to the hospital.

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. Who do you think reads this blog?
2. Have you ever had a bad day like Sue's?
3. What could she do differently next time?

Part 2

(1)

Eric: I like to study... and exercise!

Casey: Right. I remember... you play tennis, bowl, and box.

Eric: I'm thinking of maybe starting _____ too!
(2)

Casey: _____?
(3)

Eric: Of course.

Casey: I mean in the park, with a _____.
(4)

Eric: No. But with video games, you can play anywhere. Even the park! It's almost the same thing.

Casey: I don't think it is.

Eric: Hi, Maria! Have you seen Jill?

Maria: Yep! She said she was on her way down.

Eric: Hey, we're going to a _____ . Do you want to join us?
(5)

Maria: I'd love to, but I can't. I have _____ tonight.
(6)

Eric: Too bad. Maybe _____ time?
(7)

Maria: Next time. Bye.

Casey/Eric: Bye!/See ya.

Eric: We're _____ to be late.
(8)

Casey: We have some time. We should be OK.

Jill: _____ guys!
(9)

Jill: I'm so sorry. I know. I'm _____ . I, um, had to _____ the dog.
(10)
(11)

Casey/Eric: You don't have a dog.

Jill: Right. I, um... the _____ is just awful.

Need, want, would like, and like

Need, want, would like, and like have similarities and differences in meaning.
Need and want both indicate the desire for something. However, need implies that the thing desired is very important or required.
I want to take a vacation.	We need money for a vacation.
Need and want can both be used with a noun or an infinitive .
Kira wants to go shopping.	He needs to go to the bookstore.
Dave wants a new book .	She needs a ride to the mall.
Would like and like have different meanings. Would like has the same meaning as want . Would like is more polite than want , but want is commonly used.
A: We would like you to come to the park with us today.
B: OK. When do you want to go?
Like means that someone always or usually enjoys something.
She likes vacations in sunny places.
Would like means that someone wants something now or in the future.
Jack likes the snow.	Jack would like to go skiing someday.

Part 1

Use the information in parentheses to complete the sentences with want, would like, or need.

- We can't go to the museum now. We _____ need _____ to buy tickets first. (required)
- I _____ you to come with us to the beach this weekend. (very polite)
- Sara _____ us to come to the beach with her this weekend. (less polite)
- Mary _____ to do her homework before she can go to the mall. (required)
- _____ you _____ to see a movie this weekend? (more polite)
- _____ you _____ to see a movie this weekend? (less polite)

Part 2

Use the information in parentheses to complete the sentences with would like or like.

- James really _____ likes _____ traveling. (He enjoys it.)
- James _____ to go to Hawaii someday. (He wants this in the future.)
- Jen _____ snowboarding. (She enjoys this.)
- Jen _____ to go snowboarding next winter. (She wants this in the future.)
- Rick and Lisa _____ to go to the gym this weekend. (They want this in the future.)
- Rick and Lisa _____ going to the gym on the weekends. (They enjoy this.)

Using but

Use but to show contrast between two clauses.

- I'd love to go to the movies tonight, but I have to study.
- Karim loves Indian food, but Monica prefers Mexican food.

Sometimes the verb phrase that comes after but is shortened.

- I want to go to the beach, but I can't go. → I want to go to the beach, but I can't.
- Shawna likes to dance, but Marcus doesn't like to dance. → Shawna likes to dance, but Marcus doesn't.

Part 1

Circle the correct words to complete the sentences.

1. We'd like to go to the museum, but we have/don't have tickets.
2. Karen wants to go snowboarding but she hates/loves to be cold.
3. George doesn't go to concerts, but his brother doesn't/does.
4. I'd love to come to the party, but I have to/don't have to work this weekend.
5. Jenna loves to go shopping, but her boyfriend really likes/doesn't enjoy it.
6. Harry wanted to play soccer, but he hurt his ankle/wants to play this weekend.

If you plan to study abroad in Spain next year, you must follow the guidelines below.

Passport. You must have a passport. It cannot expire until after you return home. It can take six weeks to get a passport, so start your process soon.

Visa. You'll need a visa if you're going to stay more than 90 days. Some programs last only 85 days. You don't need a visa if you return when the program ends.

Flights. Some group flights are less expensive. Talk to a travel agent. You must be on time for the start of your program.

Packing. Don't bring too many clothes. You need some clothes for cool weather (a jacket, sweaters, etc.). People don't wear shorts and T-shirts very often in Spain. You should have casual but nice clothing.

Food and drink. The water is usually safe to drink in major cities. In smaller towns, buy bottled water just to be safe. You have to try the food in Spain – it is delicious. People do not eat quickly in Spain. They enjoy their food. Many restaurants are closed on Sundays.

Mark the statements T (true) or F (false).

- _____ 1. Americans need a passport to go to Spain.
- _____ 2. You can usually get a passport in a week.
- _____ 3. You don't need a visa if your visit is only two months.
- _____ 4. A travel agent can save you money on flights.
- _____ 5. Spanish people usually wear shorts and T-shirts.
- _____ 6. You don't need to bring nice clothes.

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. In what country would you like to study abroad?
2. What are some possible problems students might have when they study abroad?

Part 2

Write a list of tips for students who are coming to study in your country. Will they need a passport or visa? What should they pack? What other advice can you give?

Part 3

Share your tips with a classmate. Are your tips similar? If not, how are they different?

Lesson 24: Vocabulary

Read the letter below.

A Terrible Flight

Brendan Young
Customer Service
Airlines Singapore
October 23, 2012

Dear Mr. Young,

I am writing to request a refund for my last flight on your airline. The trip was disastrous. I was at the gate very early, but no one was there to help passengers. When someone finally arrived, the boarding area was very crowded and disorganized. We boarded the plane an hour late. Then we sat on the plane for five hours. The flight only takes 45 minutes. They did not let us go back into the terminal. The bathrooms were broken. We didn't have any food or water. When we arrived in Bangkok, we were hungry, thirsty, and unhappy. My luggage was lost. Now, I am sick because the woman next to me had the flu.

I am sending my ticket with this letter.

Sincerely,
Ted Burnham

Complete the sentences with a word or phrase from the text.

Brazilian Fashion Designer

Two Brazilian cities have joined the list of the top 25 world fashion capitals: Rio de Janeiro and São Paulo. However, one designer from Brazil has been making a name for himself for a while.

Carlos Miele designs beautiful dresses for actresses and singers including Beyoncé, Sandra Bullock, Alicia Keys, and Keira Knightley. He also makes a line of jeans. He has offices in Rio and in New York.

Miele started his career as an artist. He also thought about becoming a film director. He is interested in how things look and move. He likes both modern and traditional clothing. In his designs, Miele uses many traditions that come from all areas of Brazilian culture. For example, he uses hand-sewn stitches and leatherwork in his expensive dresses. His clients, like Beyoncé, wear his dresses on special occasions such as the Oscars or a music awards show.

Jane's Sidewalk Fashion
Bad Choice

So, I'm walking to work today and what do I see? A woman is wearing a really huge, really long dress. It's a man-made material. The material shows every stain. The dress is also not good quality. It has a tear in the back. I wanted to throw a sweater over her. Why don't people make good fashion decisions?

Oh, that's terrible. That has happened to me. Once I was going to a party. I borrowed a dress. The design was nice, but the quality was not. I got a tear in it as I left the cab. I walked around all night with a jacket around my waist.

Lidia

Price and comfort are important to me. Unfortunately, other things can be important too. My sister invited me to a dinner. So I wore an old pair of shorts and some sneakers. I bought a new shirt on sale. It was very soft. It said, "I'm with Stupid." My sister had other guests for dinner. She didn't like my clothes at all.

Part 1

Read the article below.

Household robots

Robots have existed in science fiction for a long time, but they are just now moving into our homes. Some robots have only a few uses. For example, one robot, called the Roomba, just vacuums your room. It measures the size and shape of the room. Then it vacuums. You don't have to do anything. Another kind of robot, the Rovia, is best for security. It connects to your wireless Internet. Then you can program it to move around your house. It has a camera so you can watch your house while you are at work. The Wakamaru robot has more uses. It was designed to help elderly and disabled people. It can recognize voices and faces. It has a built-in dictionary and knows 10,000 words. It is constantly connected to the Internet. If it notices a problem, the robot can call or e-mail for help. The Uniqlo store in New York used the Wakamaru robot to greet customers.

Mark the statements T (true) or F (false).

- _____ 1. The Roomba is a robot used to vacuum your home.
- _____ 2. The Rovia can recognize faces.
- _____ 3. The Rovia has a camera so you can watch your house.
- _____ 4. The Wakamaru robot can do more things than the other two.
- _____ 5. It can recognize 10,000 words.
- _____ 6. The Uniqlo store in New York used it to clean the floors.

Prepositional phrases

A prepositional phrase consists of a preposition followed by an object.
at the store	by William Shakespeare
in class	about my experiences
from Cuba	under the blanket
The object can be a noun, pronoun, gerund, or clause.
noun:	on the table
pronoun:	with him , for you
gerund:	after eating
clause:	before we go on vacation
You can use a prepositional phrase as an adjective to describe a noun.
The jacket with the zipper has the best design. (describes the jacket)
The teachers at my school are very nice. (describes the teachers)
You can also use a prepositional phrase as an adverb to describe an action.
I ate lunch at the new restaurant .
I stay healthy by eating well .

Part 1

Circle the preposition and underline the prepositional phrase in each sentence.

- The woman in the white dress is the bride.
- The man from Scotland is wearing a hat.
- Let's read the ads before we go shopping.
- Dave found some shoes at the department store.
- The lamp with the white shade is perfect!
- Lara found a better smartphone for you.

Part 2

Underline the prepositional phrase. Then circle "adjective" or "adverb".

- | | | |
|--|-----------|---------------|
| 1. I choose my clothes by reading fashion magazines . | adjective | adverb |
| 2. The tablets at the new electronics store are the nicest. | adjective | adverb |

B: Learning about different cultures.

6. A: Do you ever go excited?

B: Not really.

Part 1

Read the article below.

Try it out

I've been reading the guest blogs on this site, and wanted to "Try it out" myself. I thought the sport of rowing could be interesting. First, some basics: The front of the boat is the bow and the back of the boat is the stern. The left side is port, and the right side is starboard. I knew all of these terms because I go sailing. So the vocabulary should be easy, right? Wrong! It was actually very confusing. When you row, you face backward, so port is on your right, not your left. Every time the coach gave a direction, I did the wrong thing. Also, I was in a boat with seven other rowers. Being on a team should be fun, but I was frustrated. When one person does something wrong, the whole boat gets unbalanced. I didn't want to swim by mistake. I almost gave up.

Anyway, after a few weeks, we had a practice race. We won. It was really exciting! I've decided to give rowing another try.

Match the adjective with the noun.

- | | |
|------------------------------|----------------|
| _____ 1. the sport of rowing | a. frustrated |
| _____ 2. the vocabulary | b. confusing |
| _____ 3. I (the writer) | c. unbalanced |
| _____ 4. the boat | d. interesting |
| _____ 5. the race | e. fun |
| _____ 6. being on a team | f. exciting |

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. Why did the writer try rowing?
2. Have you tried something new recently? What was it?
3. What is a sport or activity you'd like to try?

Part 2

Write about something new that you tried. What was it? How did you feel? How was your experience? Would you do it again?

Part 3

Share your ideas with a classmate. Who had a better experience? Why?

Lesson 30: Vocabulary

Part 1

Read the tips below.

Best friends forever

People with strong friendships live longer, healthier lives. It's important to make friends and to keep them. Follow these tips to be a better friend.

- Communicate honestly. If your friend does something that bothers you, say something. But say it in a nice way. Focus on how you feel, not on the person's actions.
- Apologize when necessary. We all make mistakes. When you do hurtful things, say you're sorry. And say it quickly.
- Forgive. Sometimes your friend will hurt your feelings. He or she will apologize. Then you should forgive them. Friendship is almost always more important than being right.
- Don't judge. Your friend will not always make the same choices you do. Sometimes he or she will do something that you would never do. Your job is to help him or her deal with the consequences.

Answer the questions.

1. Why are strong friendships important? _____
2. What should you do when your friend says something that bothers you? _____
3. When should you apologize? _____
4. Why should you forgive friends? _____
5. What should you do when your friend makes a bad choice? _____

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. Do you agree with the tips? Why or why not?
2. What do you think makes a good friend?
3. Who is one of your best friends?

Part 2

Lesson 31: Reading & Writing

Part 1

Read the advice letters below.

Miss Maggie Says...

Dear Miss Maggie,

This might sound like a silly problem, but it's really bothering me. I love birthdays. Whenever one of my friends or relatives has a birthday, I make a really big deal of it. I buy presents for them. I decorate their desk or car. I bake a cake. I even buy balloons. My birthday was last week. My sister completely forgot. Two days later, she sent an e-mail. I'm so annoyed. I haven't answered yet. What should I do?

Sad Sister

Dear Sad Sister,

I wish you were my friend. I like birthdays too, and would love to get a cake and balloons. However, not everyone feels the same way. I wouldn't be so upset. Maybe your sister doesn't care about birthdays. Or maybe she had other things going on. It doesn't mean she doesn't love you. She may be embarrassed. I would answer her e-mail, and try not to worry about the problem anymore.

Miss Maggie

Complete the sentences with a word or phrase from the letters.

1. The advice columnist is named _____.
2. Sad Sister loves _____.
3. For other people, she usually buys _____ and bakes a _____.
4. Her birthday was _____.
5. Her _____ forgot and she is _____.
6. Miss Maggie thinks her sister may be _____.

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. How do you feel about birthdays? Are you like Sad Sister?
2. Do you agree with Miss Maggie's advice?
3. What problem would you want advice about?

Part 2

Write a letter about a real or imagined problem. Ask for advice.

Part 3

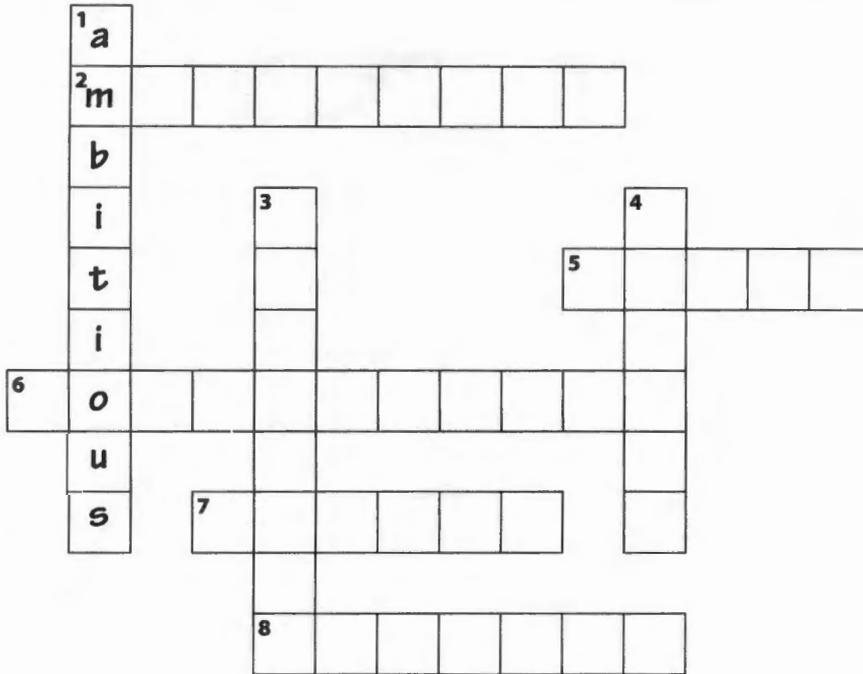

Exchange letters with a classmate. Give advice for his/her problem.

Part 1

Read the story below.

Money can grow on trees!

One day Adam Cordoba went outside to mow his lawn. He was sleepy, so at first he didn't notice anything strange. Then he saw the money. Dollar bills were everywhere. Some were in the trees. Others were blowing around the yard. After he saw the money, he called to his wife, Marie. He asked her to get some trash bags. Adam and Marie collected all the money in the bags. They filled three trash bags.

Adam called the police. Two officers came to the house to get the bags of dollar bills. They said some robbers had stolen the money from a bank. They put the money in the trunk of their car, but didn't realize the trunk was open. All the money blew out of the trunk when they went over a big bump.

The manager of the bank was very happy. She said that Adam and Marie were very honest. She gave them a generous reward—$1000. Adam and Marie gave the reward to the local library. They love to read.

Put the events in order.

- _____ The manager of the bank gave them a reward.
- _____ Adam found money in the trees and on the grass.
- _____ Adam called the police.
- _____ Adam and Marie gave money to the library.
- _____ Adam asked Marie to get some trash bags.
- _____ Two robbers stole the money.
- _____ Adam and Marie collected the money.

PAIR WORK Discuss the questions.

1. How would you describe Adam and Marie? Do you think they did the right thing?
2. Have you ever found money or something else valuable? What did you do?

Part 2

Write about a time that you or someone you know did the right thing. What happened?

Part 3

Share the story with a group. Who do you think did the most difficult thing? Would you have done the same thing?

Eric/Tom/: Bye, Casey! Travel safe! Be careful!

Maria/Jill

Tom: Can I see Tommy?

Casey: Bye, guys!

Eric/Tom/: BYE!

Maria/Jill

Gerunds & infinitives

Gerunds and Infinitives have similarities.

They are both formed from verbs.

Gerund: working

Infinitive: to work

They can both function as nouns.

Watching movies is fun.

The most important thing in life is to love.

They can both follow certain verbs, for example:

continue hate like love prefer start try

We continued watching the movie.

We continued to watch the movie.

However, there are some verbs that can only be followed by either a gerund or an infinitive, for example:

Gerund only:

avoid discuss dislike enjoy finish go practice quit stop

When it stops raining, we can finish planting the flowers and go swimming.

Infinitive only:

agree decide expect forget plan want

We decided to go to the supermarket, but we forgot to buy milk.

Part 1

Choose the correct verb forms to complete the sentences.

1. Sherry dislikes gossiping/to gossip.
2. Max enjoys watching/to watch movies online.
3. We decided apologizing/to apologize to our parents.
4. I don't want arguing/to argue with you.
5. Mary and Jack stopped communicating/to communicate with us.

Part 2

Write the correct form of the verb in parentheses.

1. Rob, you should avoid lying to the teacher. (lie)
2. I expect _____ an argument about money with my brother. (have)
3. We forgot _____ you a happy birthday! (wish)
4. My friend stopped _____ me, and I feel sad. (call)
5. After Sam finished _____ the story, we were amazed. (tell)
6. I broke your phone, and I plan _____ you a new one. (buy)

Using gerunds

Gerunds act like nouns, but they name things such as activities or behaviors.

- Playing basketball is good exercise.
- We love to go skiing in Switzerland.
- Crying doesn't help solve the problem.
- Working teaches a person responsibility.

A gerund can be a subject or an object in a sentence.

- Playing basketball is good exercise.
subject
- I'm excited about trying this new English pronunciation program.
object of a preposition
- I think we will love using it.
object of a verb

Certain verbs typically use gerunds as their objects.

- | | | | | | |
|------------|--------|----------|----------|---------|---------|
| appreciate | avoid | consider | delay | discuss | dislike |
| enjoy | finish | keep | practice | quit | stop |
- You should avoid getting into trouble.
 - We can delay coming to an agreement.

The verb go is usually followed by a gerund when describing recreational activities.

- My friends love to go skiing in the winter.
- Our family goes camping every summer.

Complete the sentences with the correct form of the verb in parentheses.

1. Mara is embarrassed about forgetting Bill's birthday. (forget)
2. Brian is going _____ this weekend for a new mobile phone. (shop)
3. I really dislike _____ with my parents. (argue)
4. In my opinion, _____ is a bad habit. (gossip)
5. Sara is planning on _____ that new movie at the Rialto Theater. (see)
6. _____ to your friends is not a good idea. (lie)
7. Do you really want to go _____ this winter? (snowboard)
8. _____ a movie you don't like can be very boring! (watch)
9. I'm worried about _____ my tuition next year. (pay)
10. Ramsay is worried about _____ the exam next week. (take)
11. Jake and Marta rewarded the man for _____ their lost cat. (find)
12. _____ money from friends is never a good idea. (borrow)
13. Ana is interested in _____ for that big computer company. (work)
14. In my opinion, _____ is the best way to solve problems. (talk)
15. _____ a gift that you don't like is OK, in my opinion. (return)
