Reading

1 Read the poem. Number the pictures in the correct order.

The beach hut

By Lily

When we went to the beach in the summer,
We collected shells, swam, and played.
But when it got hotter at lunchtime,
We wanted to sit in the shade.

Dad said, "Let's make a beach hut."
He drew some plans in the sand.
We didn't have boards or a tool box,
So we had to work with our hands.

We looked around the beach and the park.
We saw some tall trees by the shore.
We collected big leaves and some branches,
And got a blanket to put on the floor.

We tied the branches together
With seaweed we found on the sand.
The big leaves made walls and a carpet.
Our shells made the beach hut look grand!

2 Read again and write True or False.

- 1 Lily and her family went to the beach. True
- 2 The weather was cold and rainy. _____
- 3 They didn't draw any plans. _____

Topic: Celebrations

1 Read the website text below and complete the photo information.

FIRST-FOOTING

New Year in Scotland is a celebration called Hogmanay. There are fireworks and lantern parades. There is also a tradition called "first-footing." The first person to come into your house on New Year's Day brings luck for the next year. If the person is tall and has dark hair, that's very lucky. A first-footer also brings some gifts. They carry some coins, some bread and salt or sugar, a piece of coal, and a drink. The gifts represent luck for the house for the New Year. The coins represent wealth, the coal is for comfort and a warm house, and the food and drink are for happiness and hospitality.

Burning the snowman

In Switzerland, in April, there is a special festival called "Sechseläuten." There is a big parade through the town, and a big fire. On top of the fire there is a snowman. It isn't a real snowman, it's a big straw doll – and it's full of explosive powder! The fire burns and the snowman explodes! The snowman represents winter. Sechseläuten celebrates the end of winter, and the start of spring. People say that a quick explosion is lucky. It means a warm, sunny summer and a good harvest. A slow fire and a late explosion means a cold, rainy summer.

Sechseläuten takes place in Switzerland in ⁶ _____.

The school parade

The day of the school parade arrived. Barney was nervous and excited. This year he was in charge of the parade. Everything was ready. All the students had their masks on and were waiting to begin. He picked up the microphone.

"Hello and welcome to the parade!" he said. He waited to hear the crowd clap and cheer, but they weren't looking at him or listening to him.

"Ladies and gentlemen, this is the school parade!" he said. Nothing happened. His voice wasn't coming through the speakers. The music wasn't playing. Something was wrong!

Barney hurried over to the speaker and looked at it. He saw the plug on the floor.

"I didn't plug in the speaker!" he thought. He quickly plugged it in and ran back to the microphone.

"Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the parade!" he said. The crowd heard him.

They started to clap and cheer. The music for the parade started playing.

"Here are the seventh grade students!" said Barney, and his classmates started the parade. The costumes and the sparkly masks looked great. Barney smiled and waved to his mom and dad in the audience. They cheered and waved back. Barney felt relaxed and happy. The parade was going to be fantastic!

2 Read again and write True or False.

Wind energy Water energy Solar energy

New kinds of energy

People are trying not to use fossil fuels because they use up the Earth's resources and they are bad for the environment. Scientists want to find new kinds of energy that don't damage the planet. We call this alternative energy, but are these ideas really new?

1 Solar energy

Look at this greenhouse. The sun's energy goes through the glass and stays inside. Inside it's warm. This means that plants can grow in cold countries.

2 _____

Look at this sail boat. It doesn't have an engine and it is moving because of the wind. Many years ago, sailing was the fastest way to travel.

3 _____

This is a water mill. The water makes the wheel turn and the wheel turns the mill. The mill makes flour that we use for bread and other food.

These ideas are not new, and people have been using energy in these ways for hundreds of years. But the way we can use alternative energy has changed. Now we can take natural energy from the sun, wind, and water, and we can make electricity from it. Scientists are using very old ideas in our modern technology.

2 Read again and match.

1 Read and match the captions to the photos.

A 100 people on the beach?

B Look up!

C A 20-meter tall angel!

D Don't fall in!

LOOK Around!

Art is everywhere. Not just in galleries, but on the streets and in public spaces like parks and beaches.

This is the Angel of the North, by Anthony Gormley. It's a famous landmark in the north of England. Gormley's most well-known sculptures are displayed in public places all over the world.

Many of Gormley's exhibitions are very simple. He creates human shapes made of metal, and puts them in public places. But they can change the way we look at spaces. They can make us look again.

Lots of people like them. From a distance the sculptures look like real people, standing and staring. The idea can make us feel peaceful – or it can surprise us! However, in the past, these statues have caused problems. Some tourists have called the police because they thought that the sculptures were real people in danger!

Now, look closely at this. What's happening here? It's a different kind of illusion! It looks like a real, 3-dimensional hole in the sidewalk right in the middle of the city! Sidewalk artists use perspective to play a trick on us. Perspective means where you are looking from. So, for these illusions to work, you have to stand in just the right place. Sidewalk art can be surprising – and it's a special treasure because it's only there for one day! The artist draws in chalk, and when it rains, the amazing picture gets washed away!

Next time you're in a city, look out for sidewalk art. Look out for public art. Art is everywhere!

Lesson Five

Reading

1 Read the article. Find one fact about each animal.

The Komodo Dragon is the biggest lizard of all.

Adopt an animal at the National Zoo

The people who work for the National Zoo in Washington D.C. keep and take care of endangered animals. They do research and study animals in the wild. They try to save species which are in danger of becoming extinct. And we can help!

Anyone can adopt one of the National Zoo's many animals, and their donation will help animals all over the world.

There are so many animals to choose from! Here are some ideas ...

- * How about protecting the tigers? Their jungle habitat is in danger.
- * Do you like gorillas? They eat 12–18 kilos of food every day!
- * Do you love lizards? The Komodo Dragon is the biggest lizard of all.
- * How about a rhino? There are five different species.

There are lots of other kinds of animals too – some live in the water, some live in forests or deserts and others spend most of their lives in the air!

Of course, you can't take the animal home with you. But you get a magazine with lots of photos and news every month, and emails from the zoo with news about your animal. The best thing is, you can go to the zoo to visit your animal as often as you want – for free!

Lesson Five

Reading

1 Look at the pictures and check (✓) the things that are good for you. Read to find out if your answers are correct.

Be fit! Be smart! Be healthy!

We all know that we need energy for sport. Did you know it's important for school, too? You need to have a healthy diet if you want to do well at school. It's important to eat the right food, get enough sleep, and drink plenty of water, as well as studying hard.

Avoid junk food and sweet or salty snacks. Food with lots of sugar gives you lots of energy very fast. But when the energy is gone, you can suddenly feel tired. It's better to eat food that gives you energy more slowly, so you can work and play for longer. Fruit, potatoes, bread, and cereals are good sources of slow energy, so try to eat lots of these.

Salty food makes you thirsty. Drink lots of water to keep your body and brain fresh. Try not to drink too many drinks that are full of sugar.

A healthy diet with lots of fruit and vegetables also gives you lots of vitamins. You need vitamins to keep your body and brain working properly. Raw vegetables and fresh fruit are great brain food, and they taste great, too!

2 Read again and write True or False.

- 1 You don't need energy to learn. False
- 2 It's good to eat sweet and salty snacks. _____
- 3 Our bodies use sugar very slowly. _____
- 4 Drinking lots of water is good for you. _____
- 5 Vitamins help your brain work well. _____

Topic: Food Webs

1 Read and write the best title for each paragraph.

- A Lions – the top carnivores
- B Too many herbivores
- C What do lions do for the environment?
- D Plants and bacteria are important

A QUESTION OF BALANCE

1 _____
What happens to the food web if there are no producers? The herbivores get hungry and start to die, and the problem spreads up the food chain to the bigger consumers. What happens if there are no decomposers? Dead plants and animals pile up, and the environment becomes polluted. Every eco-system needs decomposers. But what if there are no predators?

² Lions – the top carnivores

An animal that eats other animals is called a predator. Lions are called the "apex predators," because they are at the top of the pyramid in their natural environment. They eat other animals, but nothing eats them. Lions are dangerous. They can seem mean. So without the apex predator, will everyone in the grasslands be happy? Well... no.

3 _____
Lions are dangerous. So if zebras and elephants know that lions are near, they keep moving. They don't stay in one place, and don't eat all the plants. That means the producers in the area stay healthy. Lions are a little bit lazy, too. They hunt slower, older animals. That means that consumer populations stay healthy.

4 _____
Think about it again. What happens to the food web if there are no lions? Smaller carnivores can't control the big consumers like elephants and zebras. Their populations increase. The herbivores eat all the plants. Then they get hungry. So without lions, herbivores are in danger! The most important thing in an eco-system is balance.

2 Read the text and answer the questions.

- 1 What happens if there are fewer plants?
The herbivores get hungry and start to die.
- 2 Why does an eco-system need decomposers?

- 3 How do lions keep the producers healthy?

- 4 Why are there fewer plants, if there are no lions?

1 Listen and answer the questions.  80

1 What environment is Tom's food web about?

Tom's food web is about the ocean.

3 What kind of consumers are dolphins?

2 Why does Karen like dolphins?

4 What kind of consumer is Tom?

2 Look and write the words.

carnivores producers herbivores decomposers omnivores consumers

1 The plants at the bottom of the food web are producers. They make their own food.

2 The next level of the food web are the _____. They can't make their own food.

3 Consumers that eat only plants are called _____. Examples are rabbits and horses.

4 Consumers that eat only meat are called _____. Examples are lions and tigers.

5 Consumers that eat plants and meat are called _____. Examples are humans, bears, and foxes.

6 Bacteria and fungi are called _____. They eat dead plants and animals, and help to put the nutrients back into the soil.

3 Complete the text with the words from page 80.

predator apex eco-system balance

All the animals and plants that live in one place are part of an ¹ eco-system.

They are linked through the food web. Even a small change can upset the

² _____ of the system, and cause a big problem. For example, if an ³ _____ predator, like a bear, arrives in the system, it eats lots of fish.

With too many consumers, there aren't enough fish.

The birds get hungry. The ⁴ _____ doesn't eat the birds, but it can have a big effect on their population.

4 Work in groups. Look at the scenario below. Make notes and discuss your ideas.

There is a river eco-system with producers and four consumers. There is enough food for everyone. The system is balanced. One day, a bear comes along. The bear eats fish, plants, and beavers. What will happen?

Choose an animal or plant from the food web.

- What do you eat? What eats you?
- Why are you important in the food web?
- How will the bear change your life?

I am an insect! I eat plants and dead leaves ...

Lesson Five

Reading

1 Read and look at the process text. What is your pulse rate? Check (✓) one.

- a How much oxygen your heart needs.
- b How many times your heart beats in a minute.
- c How much oxygen there is in your blood.

Pulse rate

Your heart pumps blood around your body. The blood carries oxygen, which helps your body work properly. You can count your heartbeats to find out how fast your heart is working. This is called your pulse rate.

You can feel your pulse in your wrist and in your neck. The easiest place to count your pulse rate is in your wrist.

- 1 Hold out your left hand, with your thumb on the left.
- 2 Put two fingers from your right hand on your left thumb and slide them back onto your wrist.
- 3 Press lightly with your fingers. You can feel a steady beat. That's your heartbeat!
- 4 When you have found a steady beat, count how many beats there are in 30 seconds.
- 5 Multiply the number of beats by two. This is the number of heartbeats in one minute.

A normal pulse rate when you are relaxed is about 90 beats in one minute. Every child is different, so pulse rates can be from 60 beats in one minute to 120 beats in one minute. If you have just done some exercise, your pulse rate will be faster. This is because your body is using more oxygen, so the heart needs to pump blood more quickly. After a while, your pulse rate will slow down and become normal again.

2 Read again and circle.

- 1 Your heart / lungs / head pumps blood around your body.
- 2 You can count your beat / heart / heartbeat.
- 3 You can feel your pulse in your wrist / knees / heart.
- 4 Count how many beats there are in one minute / one second / 30 seconds.
- 5 You need to multiply the number of beats by thirty / two / one.

THE INCA EMPIRE

The Incas lived in South America nearly 600 years ago. They had a great empire. The Incas loved beautiful things and made jewelry and other treasures out of gold. They decorated their clothes with feathers and beads.

The Incas built bridges to cross the rivers and valleys in their country. They also built aqueducts to carry water from the snow on the tops of the mountains to the towns and farms in the valleys. They invented special ways of farming to grow food on the steep mountain slopes.

The Incas built big towns and many good roads. In the Inca Empire, normal people did not use the roads. They were for messengers and the army. The Incas did not have the wheel, so they traveled on foot.

The most famous Inca city is called Machu Picchu. People call it the “forgotten city” because archeologists didn’t know about it until 1911. When they found it, they were very excited. Reading

1 Read the text. What do you think Amy did? Check (✓) one.

- a She wrote a book.
- b She made a movie of her favorite book.
- c She acted the main part in a movie.

Hollywood at home by Amy Turner

My favorite book is Charlotte Sometimes by Penelope Farmer. I decided to make it into a movie! I was the director. My sister loves acting, so she played the main character, and we borrowed Dad's camera to film it.

The story is about a teenager called Charlotte. At the beginning of the story Charlotte goes to a new boarding school in London. On the first night she goes to bed in her own time, but she wakes up in the past, in 1918. She is at the same school, but she has switched places with a girl from the past called Clare. Charlotte has to learn how to be Clare. She has to try to live in Clare's time.

Charlotte Sometimes is a great story. It's mysterious and exciting. Charlotte has to face a lot of challenges to get back to her own time, and she becomes more confident and brave. My sister's performance was wonderful!

I really enjoyed being a director for the day. I learned lots of new things and had a lot of fun, too. Maybe I will be a movie director when I'm older. I can't wait to show our movie to Mom and Dad!

2 Read again and write True or False.

- 1 Charlotte Sometimes is a story that Amy wrote. False
- 2 Amy's dad wanted to make a movie. _____
- 3 Amy's sister played the main character. _____

PRESERVING THE PAST

In 1940 a teenager found the entrance to a deep cave. Inside he discovered something amazing. The walls of the cave were covered with murals showing ancient scenes of animals. The paintings were over 17,000 years old! It was big news! Soon 1,200 people were visiting the caves every day. But today no one can visit them.

The caves at Lascaux have been closed since 1963. The murals were safe in the cool, dark cave for centuries, but then visitors damaged the paintings. They didn't vandalize them. Just the carbon dioxide in their breath was damaging the ancient murals. The only way to protect them was to close the caves.

Some celebrities earn a lot of money and are very rich. Some people think they earn more than they deserve. But many celebrities choose to give their money away to help people who need it, and often they don't tell anyone about it. Here are some examples.

One American movie actress wants to help improve people's lives. After a storm in New Orleans, U.S.A., she worked as a volunteer and served food to people who lost their homes in the floods. She has also visited India to help a charity which is building schools and hospitals so that children can be healthy and get an education.

A famous soccer player does a lot of work with organizations that help children all over the world. He has started his own charity. They raise money to buy wheelchairs for children who can't walk. He also helps a charity that tries to stop people getting a disease called malaria in Africa.

So celebrities earn a lot of money, but many of them give a lot away, too. Because they give their time and money, a lot of people in the world can have better lives. Are they heroes? Tell us what you think ...
