Which one was the most interesting one?

What types of MOVIE do people WATCH in different cultures?

What are some traditional RULES from different cultures?

Talk about successful people in the UK culture?

Benjamin Franklin is a giant of American history, partly because he was successful in so many different areas. Today, he is perhaps remembered mostly as a scientist and inventor, but he was also a publisher, a musician, a newspaper owner, a politician and a philosopher. And he was able to do all of this despite quite a poor background.
